

Legal Disclaimer & Transparency Notice

1. Our Legal Status

BABY-I is an initiative for infant abandonment prevention, operating as an unincorporated association in England. We are actively preparing an application for registration with the Charity Commission for England and Wales. Our governance, safeguarding, and financial practices follow Charity Commission guidance for organisations preparing to register.

2. Our Governance

We operate under a written constitution with a volunteer management committee. These individuals will become our Board of Trustees upon charitable registration. Our management committee has been appointed and is currently undergoing induction and training in line with Charity Commission standards.

3. Our Funding

Our Save Lives training and awareness programmes are fully funded by the National Lottery Community Fund. All crisis support and signposting services are provided free of charge.

4. What We Are Not

BABY-I is not a statutory authority, medical provider, or legal service. We do not:

- Take custody of children
- Make child protection decisions
- Replace social services, police, or healthcare professionals
- Provide legal representation

5. If You Need Immediate Help

Emergency: 999

Non-emergency police: 101
